
reports of the government weather bureau. The state of weather on election day was considered most important, for this alone would determine the turn-out of voters, particularly in isolated sections of the country where heavy rains would prevent the voters from attending the polls.

There are districts with streams which, when flooded, cannot be crossed even on mule-back, and in certain states where the contest is close, every ballot plays its part.

The Weather Outlook. In general, this is what the weather man had to say of a western disturbance, which appeared today over Iowa, and of the prospects to-morrow all over the country:

"The western disturbance will advance east-northeastward and be attended by unsettled weather and rain Tuesday, election day, in the Atlantic states, the upper Ohio valley and the region of the Great Lakes, with some probability of snow in northern Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. The weather will be clearing and much cooler during Tuesday in the Gulf states, Tennessee, the lower Ohio and central Mississippi valleys.

"Fair, cool weather will prevail Tuesday over the plains states, the Rocky mountain states and all far western states."

With addition of women to those who choose the electoral college, party leaders, of course, expect a vote greatly swollen over that of 1912. Should the skies open, the downpour could hardly discourage enough voters to hold the total below that of four years ago. And ballot counters are not expecting a smaller, but a much larger task—so large, indeed, that the count may possibly not be known until much later than in other presidential years.

Cox and Harding Wait Verdict. Senator Harding, of Ohio, standard bearer of the republican party, today retired to his home in Marion to await the decision of his countrymen. To his party managers he left detailed forecasts of the vote, and from Chairman Hays, of the republican national committee, there was forthcoming tonight reiteration of confidence in a republican victory. Mr. Hays, however, issued no formal statement, announcing that he chose to remain "mute" until the ballots had been counted.

Governor Cox, also Ohio's native son, selected by the democratic party as its choice for the white house tonight delivered his final campaign address in Toledo and returned to his home in Dayton. Conviction that he "will be elected was expressed in a final statement today by Chairman White, of the democratic national committee. Senator Harding and Governor Cox, fellow newspaper proprietors, have chosen different ways to receive campaign results. With Mrs. Harding the senator will receive at their home bulletins compiled by the Associated Press, keeping them advised of the latest totals.

Governor Cox, on the other hand, will receive election returns at his office in The Dayton Daily News, a member of the Associated Press, where special telegraph instruments, including a receiver used in the Cleveland campaign of more than a quarter of a century ago, have been set up. Chairman White and Hays, together with other democratic and republican leaders, will gather at their respective headquarters here tomorrow night to receive the returns.

Coolidge and Roosevelt. In Boston, capital of the state, whose chief executive he is, Calvin Coolidge, republican presidential nominee, will learn whether or not next year he is to move to Washington.

Franklin D. Roosevelt, former assistant secretary of the navy and democratic opponent of Governor Coolidge, will watch the progress of the struggle from his home in Hyde Park.

Eugene V. Debs, presidential candidate of the socialist party, tonight insisted to run with Seymour Steadman, Chicago lawyer, who have the unusual experience of returning from an election in which he is a candidate while in a prison cell. He is in the Atlanta penitentiary, where he is confined for violation of the espionage act. While his party leaders hold no hope of capturing electoral votes, they express conviction they will poll a vote two or three times as great as that of 1912.

In a presidential year unique in the number of parties with candidates for the presidency and vice presidency are:

Prohibition—Aaron S. Watkins and Leigh D. Swain.

Farmer-Labor—Parley P. Christensen and Max Hayes.

Single Tax—Robert M. La Follette and Richard C. Barnum.

Socialist-Labor—William W. Cox and August Gillman.

In all, 531 members of the electoral college will have to be chosen. Most of these will be required for election of a presidential candidate. In the last election President Wilson had 57.

Fight for Doubtful States. Interest in the last day of the great fight centered in the desperate attempt to bring over the "doubtful" states with large electoral votes to deliver, or save.

United States senators in other doubtful states where the electoral vote is not large enough to be indispensable. The salient example of states in this category is Ohio, home state of two principal candidates, with 24 votes, while the outstanding "crucial" class is Nevada, with only three.

Other states where the eleventh-hour contest is intense with parties sanguine of success, are Arizona, Kentucky, Maryland, New Mexico, Tennessee, California and Oklahoma. All these, as well as the Buckeye state, are claimed by both republicans and democrats.

Second only in interest to the outcome of the voting is the subject of "what will the women do?" Leaders of both major parties disclaim possession of advance information on what is expected of the new class of voters exercising their franchise in all the states for the first time.

Speculation About Women. Speculation in ordinarily well-informed political circles about the effect of the addition of women to the electoral college has been intense.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM

CENTRAL WEST STATES. Chicago, November 1.—Claims and counter-claims with flashes of old-time political enthusiasm, marked the conclusion of the campaign in the states of the central west today.

Mystery as to the tide of the tremendous woman vote was reflected in many eleventh-hour discussions of the general situation. It was stated on all sides that the woman vote, together with expected ticket scratching in numerous districts very likely would delay returns and create uncertainty where contests were close.

Reports from the various states indicated that in practically all districts unusual steps have been taken to guard against fraud and to curb quickly any attempts to intimidate women voters. In many instances the usual number of workers and watchers will be doubled or tripled. Last-minute voters will be urged to make their choice.

REPUBLICAN SWEEP CLAIMED IN JERSEY.

Trenton, N. J., November 1.—A republican plurality in New Jersey of at least 100,000 and possibly 250,000, was predicted today by S. C. Stokes, republican state chairman. Charles F. McDonald, democratic chairman, declared his party will carry the state, although he made no estimate of the vote.

Secondary only to interest in the presidential vote is that in the contests in the twelve congressional districts. In several of which modification of the Volstead act has been an issue.

HARD CONTEST IN MARYLAND.

Baltimore, November 1.—Indications today were that both the republican and democratic parties were well lined up for the election tomorrow and that the contest would be a hard one. Each side in the last month of the campaign will be matched tomorrow by equal hard work in getting out the voters, especially the women.

Special interest attaches to the republican fight, one of the six candidates being a negro, W. Ashlie Hawkins, a lawyer of Baltimore. Hawkins is an independent.

NEW YORK VOTERS READY FOR POLLS.

New York, November 1.—New York voters sat back tonight, the campaign at an end, and the confident predictions of rival political leaders before them, prepared to vote tomorrow. The choice for president, governor and other state officials will be theirs.

The polls will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 8 o'clock at night. In Greater New York, with 1,375,000 registered voters, the election districts, it would be necessary to vote an average of forty-two ballots an hour in each district, if the entire vote was cast.

FIGHT IN OHIO VERY BITTER.

Columbus, Ohio, November 1.—Approximately 3,000,000 Ohio voters, nearly 700,000 of them estimated to be waiting to go to the polls to cast their ballots tomorrow for president, United States senator and other state officials, are expected to vote.

The closing days of the campaign have been fraught with a bitterness which has been rare in Ohio. The campaign has settled in Ohio, as elsewhere, on a bitter note.

What effect these stories will have on the result of the election was the principal topic of Ohio voters on the eve of the election.

It is thought that during the past few days West Virginia has become a little more secure to the republicans. Also, I think that developments of the last few days have made it probable that Nevada will go democratic rather than republican.

The net result of changing these two states from the list as I had it on Saturday would be to give Cox 174 electoral votes.

And yet there can be no doubt whatever that three strong influences have been working in Cox's favor for the past three or four days; for that matter, several of these influences have been working in Cox's favor for fully four weeks.

INFLUENCES FOR COX.

These influences which have been working in behalf of Cox for four weeks, and which have been working more strongly during the past few days than at any time before, are the issue of those states and communities where the average numbers of negroes, and where this issue counts; the league of nations issue, and certain influences which have been tending to modify the rather implacable opposition which voters of Irish descent have had toward the democratic party throughout the campaign until recently.

As a result of these influences there can be no question whatever that Cox has been making rapid gains during the past few days, and it is difficult to calculate how much progress he has made. The effect of these changes has, in my judgment, made the following three large states genuinely doubtful: Missouri, with eighteen electoral votes; Indiana, with fifteen electoral votes, and Ohio, with twenty-four electoral votes. Two weeks ago these states seemed safely republican; today they are doubtful; and it is in these three states to-day that probably the most intense fighting will take place.

Control of Senate.

As to the control of the United States senate, I said on Saturday that it seemed likely that the republicans would control the new senate by fifty-two to forty-four. I still think that is approximately correct.

The senatorial seats now held by the republicans which they have grave danger of losing are: Cummings in Iowa, Leffert in Wisconsin, Stimson in Illinois, Beckham in Connecticut. All four of these republican senators are in grave danger. Cummings, especially, is in grave danger. He is the only republican senator who has been defeated in his own state. He is the only republican senator who has been defeated in his own state.

Of the states now held by the democrats which the republicans have a chance to win, the most likely are the seats of Thomas of Colorado, Nugent of Idaho, Beckham of Kentucky, Johnson of South Dakota, and Chamberlain of Oregon. Among these seats the republicans are practically certain of winning in Colorado and Idaho.

The republicans would be reasonably certain of winning in South Dakota, except that just recently an important independent candidacy has developed there. In Oregon, the republicans have a strong chance, as regards Harding, the republicans would have had no chance of winning the senatorship except that the Wilson democrats have recently put forward a candidate of their own, a native son away from Senator Chamberlain. In Kentucky the republican candidate for senator, Erns, will win, even though the state should go for Cox.

The republicans also have hopes of winning a senatorship in California. It is undoubtedly true that California will go for Harding by a large majority, but it is also true that the democratic senator, James D. Phelan, who is running to succeed himself, is much more popular than the republican candidate, Charles W. Young. Phelan will probably win.

ARKANSAS SAFE FOR DEMOCRATS.

Little Rock, Ark., November 1.—Democratic claims that all nominees of the party in Arkansas would be elected tomorrow were disputed by republican leaders here but one instance tonight. A. C. Bonnell, chairman of the state republican committee, predicted victory for the republican candidate for congress, from the third district.

John H. Worthington, republican nominee, made an active campaign against John H. Tillman, democratic incumbent, in the third district, which comprises ten counties in the northwestern part of the state.

NORTH CAROLINA FOR DEMOCRATS.

Raleigh, N. C., November 1.—On the eve of the general election to-morrow, State Chairman Warren was confident that the democratic majority in North Carolina would exceed 100,000, and that the party would send a solid democratic representation to congress, and that the ratio of democrats and republicans in the state general assembly would be 100 to 100.

Republicans were claiming they would elect republican congressmen in the tenth, ninth and seventh districts.

Governor Cox Favors Admission of Russia To League of Nations

New York, November 1.—Russia should be admitted to the league of nations and be enabled to "work out her own salvation in her own way," Governor Cox, democratic presidential nominee, declared today in the League of Free Nations association, made public here today.

The governor's letter, written in reply to one sent him by the association, was published in the "New York Times."

"It is my purpose to give every attention to the Russian situation. I have seen in my addresses my conviction that Russia should be enabled to work out her own salvation in her own way and be admitted to membership in the league of nations. I shall support any policy which makes of America the center of humanitarian leadership of the world, but cannot in propriety at this time express what in unkindly quarters might be seized upon as an ungracious criticism."

Five Men Possessing Only 7 Legs and 8 Arms Arrested for Gambling

Rocky Mount, N. C., November 1. Five men, who are possessed of a total of only seven legs and eight arms, were arrested at a hotel here Sunday morning on a charge of gambling. According to the police, they were professional beggars en route to Toronto, where a fair is in progress.

They gave bond of $12.50 each, the sum being paid in pennies, nickels and dimes, and failed to show in police court today when their cases were called.

ELECTORAL VOTERS OF "SOLID SOUTH" "SOLID" FOR COX

Mark Sullivan Thinks Democrats Will Carry All Southern States and Also Four Border States.

CONTROL OF SENATE TO STAY REPUBLICAN

Sullivan Thinks That There Will Be 52 Republican Senators to 44 Democratic as Result of Election.

BY MARK SULLIVAN.

(Copyright 1920.)

New York, November 1.—(Special.)—I said on Saturday that the democrats will be likely to carry every one of the southern states and in addition four of the border states, namely, Oklahoma, Maryland, Kentucky and West Virginia. Outside the southern and border states, I said the democrats would be likely to carry Utah, Arizona, Montana and New Mexico. The total electoral votes of these states would be 179 out of a total of 531. The only changes I would make today would be these:

I think that during the past few days West Virginia has become a little more secure to the republicans. Also, I think that developments of the last few days have made it probable that Nevada will go democratic rather than republican.

The net result of changing these two states from the list as I had it on Saturday would be to give Cox 174 electoral votes.

Attack on Ancestry Of Senator Harding Denied by Democrats

Chairman Durbin, of Ohio, Says Rumors About Harding Have Been Circulated for Years.

Columbus, Ohio, November 1.—Chairman W. W. Durbin, of the Ohio democratic state executive committee, today issued a statement denying that "a young man closely connected with the democratic state committee," had brought certain printed and mimeographed circulars concerning the ancestry of Senator Harding, republican presidential candidate, to Governor Cox's special train, as contained in a statement issued last night by Scott C. Bone, director of publicity for the republican national committee.

Chairman Durbin said: "This hue and cry being raised in the eleventh hour of a campaign is merely a conspiracy of republican politicians to blind the voters to the real issues and attempt to stem the tremendous tide that is flowing to Cox and the league of nations."

"The fight made by the democratic state and county committees in Ohio has been clean, fair and above-board. This, too, in spite of the fact that the opposition has stooped to the foulest, lowest tactics."

"I repeat that we had no connection with the alleged circulating of pamphlets or reports. Furthermore, I submit that reports of a similar nature have been current for thirty years, that they have figured in previous campaigns of Senator Harding, and that they were prevalent all over the state and nation during the pre-convention campaign, circulated by republicans who opposed him. Now, however, when such reports have been prevalent all during the campaign, and were also in circulation at the convention that nominated him, republicans attempt to bring a last-minute cry against the democrats."

"We regret its entrance. We have never said anything to do with its transmission and we are sure that the use of it in the last hour will be to the detriment of the democrats."

ON THE JOB EVERY DAY

Red-Blooded Men and Women Are Seldom Sick

WATCH YOUR BLOOD CONDITION

If You Look Pale, Feel Gloomy and Run-Down, Take Pepto-Mangan and Build Up

You see men and women who are never sick. They work hard, look robust, eat heartily and enjoy life. They have plenty of rich, red blood. This is what they do for themselves. People who try to get along with weak, impoverished blood always have a struggle. They go from one sickness to another. Children the same way.

If you keep your blood rich and red you'll enjoy full vigor. Disease has little chance to develop in healthy blood. As soon as you feel run-down take Pepto-Mangan for while. It will keep your blood with the ingredients needed to create a good supply of red corpuscles. Pepto-Mangan sold in both liquid and tablet form. Take either kind you prefer. They are alike in medicinal value. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan—"Gude's." The full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," should be on the package.—(adv.)

Dayton, Ohio, November 1.—A suit against the Burkam-Herrick company, of this city, publisher of The Dayton Journal, asking $100,000 as damages for alleged libel, was filed in court here today with Professor William Estabrook Chancellor, of Wooster, Ohio, named as plaintiff.

The suit was based on a statement published in The Journal declaring that Professor Chancellor had denied responsibility, authorship and circulation of printed matter relating to Senator Harding. In the complaint, it was alleged that Professor Chancellor had not made the denial attributed to him by The Journal.

WILSON IS ASKED TO AID FARMERS

Extension of Immediate Credit Relief Is Requested, Pending the Reopening of Congress.

Washington, November 1.—Extension of immediate credit relief to farmers by executive action, pending the reopening of congress, was asked of President Wilson today by George P. Hampton, of the Farmers' National Council. In company with William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, Mr. Hampton called upon Secretary Tumulty, who is understood to have promised to present the request to the president at once. It was contained in a letter, which said the proposals presented were endorsed by Mr. Johnston, Bert M. Jewell, American Federation of Labor; Warren Stone, grand chief, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

Chicago, November 1.—Knut Hamsun, Norwegian author and formerly a conductor on the old Halsted street car line here back in the early eighties, has won the 1920 Nobel prize for literature, friends learned today. Hamsun came here from North Dakota, where he had worked on a farm, and after being discharged from the horse car line because he read books instead of collecting fares and ringing bells, he went east and obtained a berth on a Newfoundland fishing boat. He returned to Norway in the early 90's and in 1892 brought out his first volume—a collection of "Pantheistic poems."

Every Drop of Your Blood Should Be Absolutely Pure

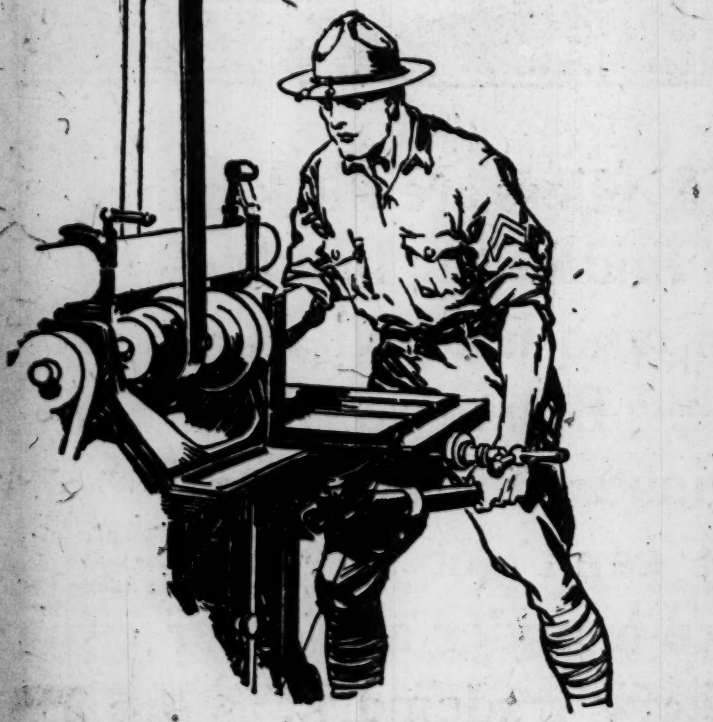

You can not overestimate the importance of keeping the blood free of impurities. When you realize that the heart is constantly pumping this vital fluid to all parts of the body, you can readily see that any impurity in the blood will cause serious complications. Any slight disorder or impurities is a source of danger, as every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions. Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct cause of a bad condition of the blood. Among the most serious are Rheumatism, with its torturing pain; Eczema, Tetter,

Erysipelas and other disfiguring skin diseases; general debility, which makes the strongest men helpless, and many other diseases are the direct result of impure blood. You can in a large measure avoid liability to disease by the use of S. S. S., the wonderful blood remedy that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly. It is sold by druggists everywhere. POTENTIAL EVENTS LIKELY TO FOLLOW TODAY'S ELECTION

Bender Sees the Possible Retirement of Wilson From Office, Followed by Early Ratification of League Covenant.

REPUBLICAN FIGHT AIMED AT PRESIDENT

If Harding Is Elected, His Early Naming of Cabinet Might Tend to Stabilize All Business.

BY ROBERT J. BENDER, United News Staff Correspondent. New York, November 1.—Party-eight hours more and the election will have been decided, congratulatory messages will have been exchanged all around, celebrations will have been held and the country will once more be faced with the problem it has held for two years.

When and how are the United States to be established on a peace footing?

In this respect the campaign closes exactly as it began. In the long run, the election convenes the first of next month, the senatorial line-up will be the same as it was in its two previous sessions, when ratification of the peace treaty with or without reservations proved impossible. Three months will elapse before a new congress convenes and those three months are fraught with economic possibilities which have aroused concern both in financial and industrial centers.

Peace is still the undetermined factor in the situation. And today, among business men particularly, one is asked the question more and more frequently:

"Will an effort be made in the forthcoming congress to bring peace or will it be advanced since America has managed to get along so far in its uncertain state, and the rest of the world can get along until March 4, when the new administration and the new congress take up the reins of government?"

With no indication from Washington as to the action President Wilson will take after the election, and with no word from Senator Harding as to the initial steps he will take on the subject, two suggestions have been advanced among business and political leaders here as possible occurrences.

President Wilson's Promise. The first of these has to do with President Wilson and is born of Governor Cox's statement in Chicago recently that, "if President Wilson knew his promise to American mothers would be kept, I believe he would be willing to conclude participation in public affairs."

In this connection it is recalled that President Wilson, soon after his return from Paris, made a speech in which he said he would gladly sacrifice his life if he thought it would help the cause of the league. Putting the two statements together there are those who see a possibility of the president, when he addresses congress next month, re-submitting the peace treaty of Versailles with a final plea for some agreement upon it, and a announcement that he is retiring from office in the hope that his personal elimination will remove an obstacle in the path of ratification.

In support of the possibility of such a course by the president, there is advanced the campaign statement of Senator Harding that it would be of no use to re-submit the treaty to the senate, because, even if it were adopted with reservations, the president would continue to refuse the senate's action.

History Will Give Power Credit. In further support it is pointed out that the whole campaign has been waged largely about the president, personally, and that a victory for Harding would be generally construed as a vote against Wilson, or, in other words, a popular de-

EXTERNAL COLD. TREATMENT THAT WILL PENETRATE

Colds, Croup and Other Inflammations of the Air Passages Quickly Respond to Gowan's, the Original Penetrating Salve.

Made With an Animal Fat Base That Goes Right in. Produces a Rubefacient Effect Without Irritation and Breaks Up Congestion in the Blood Vessels.

Colds and croup originate in the bronchial tubes. You cannot reach the seat of the trouble through the stomach and external treatment for inflammations of the air passages that use a crude petrolatum, or mineral base, do not penetrate. Gowan's, through its penetrating qualities, brings quick relief in colds, spasmodic croup and other inflammations of the air passages. It does right in, soothes and heals and opens up the air passages for free and easy breathing. Especially fine for babies and children, because it produces a rubefacient effect without irritating or blistering the tenderest skin. Gowan's gives relief beyond belief and will not stain the clothing. It has many daily uses in the home and should be kept on hand for emergencies, such as cuts, burns, bruises, insect bites, etc. 30c, 60c and $1.20 at your druggist and returned to please or money refunded.—(adv.)

WHITE APPEALS TO G. O. P. VOTERS

Democratic Chairman Begs Them to Oppose Harding and Save the League of Nations.

New York, November 1.—George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, tonight addressed a "final appeal to the republican voters," urging them, when they enter the polls tomorrow, to ask themselves this question: "Has the republican party more claim on me than the peace of the world? Shall I permit the mistakes of party leaders to sacrifice the league of nations?"

"To this question," said Mr. White, "there is but one answer in the hearts of the millions of patriotic men and women who make up the republican party. It is 'no.'"

Hardy: Plan Not Possible. "And yet the republican party managers and senators are asking voters to sacrifice world peace for party policies," said Mr. White. "The republican party is finally and definitely decided to stand with its managers and the senate leaders, rejecting the league, whatever reservations are proposed and accepted, junking the treaty of Versailles, tendering to Germany a separate peace conference. This is the inevitable course which he must follow, since he has stated that he will not re-submit the treaty and the covenant to the senate."

"Even if he should be able to induce the forty-one nations now signatory to the treaty to tear it up and frame another, it would require at least two years before another peace could be ratified. And it is generally admitted by such eminent international authorities as Messrs. Taft and Root that what Senator Harding proposes is insupportable. Therefore, we shall have the treaty and league destroyed, a separate peace with Germany and militarists as free to prey on human kind as were in 1914."

"Republican voters have the power to prevent this. They have the power to save their own party from the common fate and general menace of war which the election to Senator Harding will engender."

"If it will be greater victory for them if peace is insured than if the republican party is successful. We should all consider it an American and not a democratic victory. I appeal to them to do it. I feel confident they will."

Fought Clean Fight, Says White. In an earlier statement Chairman White said: "There is a great decision before the American voters tomorrow: Shall this nation join the league with safeguarding reservation and thus assure world peace, or shall this nation reject the league and let militarism continue to run at large?"

"It is sufficient American voters mark their ballots for James M. Cox, militarism goes to fall forever. Sufficient voters mark their ballots for Warren G. Harding, militarism is free to murder and pillage again. The peace of the world and the prosperity and progress of the United States depend upon the votes of Americans tomorrow. The issue has been clearly made. Senator Harding no longer denies that he will not re-submit the treaty and the covenant to the senate."

A vitally important amendment before the people is that providing for a levy for a local tax for schools in all counties.

Other amendments of less importance are: Concerning pensions to Confederate veterans; fixing salaries of court judges; appropriation for education of negroes; representation in the house of representatives, and the West Point bonded indebtedness.

Although no legal provision has been made in this state for the women to vote today, it is expected that some of the newly enfranchised citizen will demand ballots. However, despite the absence of the women vote, election officials were certain that one of the heaviest votes of Georgia history will be polled.

REPLY OF CALIFORNIA TO STATE DEPARTMENT. Sacramento, Cal., November 1.—California, "as the state department is aware, is not doing or contemplating anything which is not in strict accord with our treaty with Japan and with the federal constitution and federal laws," State Controller, John S. Chambers, chairman of the executive committee of the Japanese exclusion league of California said today when the department's statement on the Japanese question was read to him.

"The statement" from the state department to the effect that no anti-Japanese legislation in California will be acceptable to the country at large which does not also conform to law and justice was doubtless made as a friendly assurance to Japan and was not intended as a reflection on California, though it might be so construed," Mr. Chambers said. "California is not doing or contemplating anything which is unjust to the Japanese, which is not necessary for the protection of American citizens and American institutions and which is not also in line already pursued for many years past by Japan in properly protecting her people and her institutions."

THE SUITAIN'S TREASURE CONTAINS GAINED 60 POUNDS IN A FEW WEEKS

Cough was getting the best of him, but he got rid of it quickly.

"I had a chronic cough for a long time. I could not find anything that would do me any good. A friend recommended Mike Emulsion. The third bottle cured the cough completely, made me healthy and well and I feel like a new man. Before taking your Emulsion I was down to 125 pounds and now I weigh 185 pounds. It don't seem possible that 3 bottles of medicine would cause a man to gain 60 pounds, but it is a fact. I am Gilton R. F. D. No. 4, Chucky, Tenn. Mr. Gilton was fortunate in commencing to use Mike Emulsion when he did. A run-down system invites disease. Mike Emulsion costs nothing to try. Mike Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Mike Emulsion is strongly recommended by those whom illness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved. This is the only solid emulsion made, so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream. Truly wonderful for weak, sickly children. No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Mike Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied, the money will be promptly refunded. Price 75c and $1.50 per bottle. The Mike Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.—(adv.)

Negroes to Get Returns

A leased wire, over which the election returns will be flashed tonight, has been installed in First Congressional church on Courtland street by a number of negroes of Atlanta. The women of the church will give a fall festival in the basement serving refreshments.

YOU'LL FIND DELIGHTED MOTHERS EVERYWHERE

Women Who Have Used Nestling Powders in Their Families Always Warm in Their Praise.

Thousands of mothers have used Nestling Powders to relieve infant stomach disorders and other babyhood troubles. These grateful mothers are ever writing us telling of their pleasant experiences with these powders.

Mrs. J. C. Howard, of Manchester, Georgia, recently wrote us saying that she had used Nestling Powders in her family for about ten years and that she found them "invaluable." Mrs. Howard adds, "Without aid of physician my little grandson was cured of a severe attack of colic by using Nestling Powders freely. I cannot speak too highly of these wonderful Powders but can recommend them without reservation."

Mrs. Howard's experience has been duplicated by women all over the South. Doctors and druggists everywhere recommend them. If you are not familiar with these powders which are so effective in relieving the many infant stomach troubles so common in babyhood, write us today for our little 8-page booklet which tells of infant diseases and their treatment.

If your dealer does not carry Nestling Powders send 40c for full sized package of twenty powders. Nestling Powders Company, Manchester, Ga.—(adv.)

SIGNATURE URGED TO HEAT CONTRACT

Council Again Asks Mayor to Put an End to Controversy With the Power Company.

Taking issue with Mayor Key's position in the steam heat controversy which he has waged with the Georgia Railway and Power company for the past two months, their differences culminating in open warfare last week, city council, at its meeting Monday afternoon, adopted a resolution asking the mayor to sign the contract submitted by the company to supply steam heat for city buildings.

This is the second resolution passed by council urging the mayor to affix his signature to the contract. The first one was vetoed by him with the declaration that it had apparently been passed without the consideration to which it was entitled and he recommended that the matter be referred to a special investigating committee for a report.

It was the report of this committee, composed of Councilman F. C. Woodall, chairman; Councilman Claude Ashley and Councilman J. N. Renfro, on which council based its action Monday afternoon. The committee unanimously recommended that the mayor again be requested to recede from the stand he has taken in the matter.

Will Key Sign. When asked following the session if he will now sign, without making direct reply to the question, he referred to the message accompanying his veto of the former resolution, in which he said:

"I have no honor any request made upon me by the general council, and will comply with the request, if after a consideration of the facts you think it best to do so."

Differences between the mayor and the power company over a 1909 contract for heating the city hall, Carnegie library, the police and fire stations, and the city hall, turned spectacular last Friday morning, when the mayor took his stand in his own hands, smashed the seals from the steam connections and released the steam vapor into the streets. The action was taken in defiance of all the buildings affected by the dispute.

With equal promptness and decision the power company shut the steam off, locked the valves with padlock and chain, and issued an injunction against the mayor and secured a temporary restraining order signed by Judge George W. Bell, of the Fulton superior court.

Truce Is Declared. Saturday an armistice was declared pending council's opinion in the matter Monday. Hostilities were suspended under an agreement that the steam was to be turned on again immediately and the city buildings kept warm until the matter had been decided favorably or unfavorably.

In the event council's opinion coincided with the mayor's, the steam was to be turned off again. In the event council requested the mayor to sign the contract, the steam was to be turned on again immediately and the city buildings kept warm until the matter had been decided favorably or unfavorably.

City employees are awaiting with interest the outcome.

LAST SHOT FIRED

of the candidate, Governor Cox responded with a rear platform speech, a forerunner of his argument here tonight.

Faith in the People. "I have always had faith in the good judgment and patriotism of the American people," said the governor, "and an analysis of our history, whenever a moral issue has been presented, it has been met with the approval of the American electorate. If there ever was a campaign based entirely upon a great moral issue, this is the campaign, because the issue is the decision whether the civilization of the world shall tie itself together in a concerted purpose to prevent the tragedies of tomorrow."

"I hope we will have good news tomorrow night. When I say good news, I do not speak of a democratic victory. I speak of a victory for humanity, which will be a victory for humanity world-wide, having significance that touches of his long campaign. His visit here every man, woman and child in the civilized world of the earth."

The governor had no special address prepared for the meeting here, but in it he reviewed and summarized the various arguments he had made in his trans-continental tour with a political superlativity of party followers. He said that the governor's only defeat in an election was encountered when he failed to end his speech-making in this city.

Many messages were received today by the candidate, coming from various parts of the country. None was made public, but it was said that the governor's victory was cheered by Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the evening of the governor's party to the city hall, predicting inclement weather, was brought to the governor's attention, and he said that this would affect the republican vote more seriously than the forecast of rain, particularly in the mountain sections of some border states.

"Every man for Harding." The governor brought his campaign to a close just one hour and a half before the beginning of the election. The first one was vetoed by him with the declaration that it had apparently been passed without the consideration to which it was entitled and he recommended that the matter be referred to a special investigating committee for a report.

The action was taken in defiance of all the buildings affected by the dispute.

With equal promptness and decision the power company shut the steam off, locked the valves with padlock and chain, and issued an injunction against the mayor and secured a temporary restraining order signed by Judge George W. Bell, of the Fulton superior court.

Truce Is Declared. Saturday an armistice was declared pending council's opinion in the matter Monday. Hostilities were suspended under an agreement that the steam was to be turned on again immediately and the city buildings kept warm until the matter had been decided favorably or unfavorably.

In the event council's opinion coincided with the mayor's, the steam was to be turned off again. In the event council requested the mayor to sign the contract, the steam was to be turned on again immediately and the city buildings kept warm until the matter had been decided favorably or unfavorably.

City employees are awaiting with interest the outcome.

LAST SHOT FIRED

of the candidate, Governor Cox responded with a rear platform speech, a forerunner of his argument here tonight.

Faith in the People. "I have always had faith in the good judgment and patriotism of the American people," said the governor, "and an analysis of our history, whenever a moral issue has been presented, it has been met with the approval of the American electorate. If there ever was a campaign based entirely upon a great moral issue, this is the campaign, because the issue is the decision whether the civilization of the world shall tie itself together in a concerted purpose to prevent the tragedies of tomorrow."

"I hope we will have good news tomorrow night. When I say good news, I do not speak of a democratic victory. I speak of a victory for humanity, which will be a victory for humanity world-wide, having significance that touches of his long campaign. His visit here every man, woman and child in the civilized world of the earth."

The governor had no special address prepared for the meeting here, but in it he reviewed and summarized the various arguments he had made in his trans-continental tour with a political superlativity of party followers. He said that the governor's only defeat in an election was encountered when he failed to end his speech-making in this city.

Many messages were received today by the candidate, coming from various parts of the country. None was made public, but it was said that the governor's victory was cheered by Weather Forecast.

The weather forecast for the evening of the governor's party to the city hall, predicting inclement weather, was brought to the governor's attention, and he said that this would affect the republican vote more seriously than the forecast of rain, particularly in the mountain sections of some border states.

"Every man for Harding." The governor brought his campaign to a close just one hour and a half before the beginning of the election. The first one was vetoed by him with the declaration that it had apparently been passed without the consideration to which it was entitled and he recommended that the matter be referred to a special investigating committee for a report.

It was the report of this committee, composed of Councilman F. C. Woodall, chairman; Councilman Claude Ashley and Councilman J. N. Renfro, on which council based its action Monday afternoon. The committee unanimously recommended that the mayor again be requested to recede from the stand he has taken in the matter.

When asked following the session if he will now sign, without making direct reply to the question, he referred to the message accompanying his veto of the former resolution, in which he said:

"I have no honor any request made upon me by the general council, and will comply with the request, if after a consideration of the facts you think it best to do so."

Differences between the mayor and the power company over a 1909 contract for heating the city hall, Carnegie library, the police and fire stations, and the city hall, turned spectacular last Friday morning, when the mayor took his stand in his own hands, smashed the seals from the steam connections and released the steam vapor into the streets. The action was taken in defiance of all the buildings affected by the dispute.

With equal promptness and decision the power company shut the steam off, locked the valves with padlock and chain, and issued an injunction against the mayor and secured a temporary restraining order signed by Judge George W. Bell, of the Fulton superior court.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

HAIR GROWN ON MR. BRITAIN'S BALD HEAD BY INDIAN'S MYSTERIOUS HAIR GROWER

My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. The scalp was shiny. An expert said that as he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having new hair growth. Yet now, at an age over 60, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures show how I was and how I am now.

Indians' Secret of Hair Growth

At a time when I had become discouraged at trying various hair lotions, tonics, specialists' treatments, etc., I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian "medicine man" who had an elixir that he asserted would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith, I gave it a trial. My treatment a light hair soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as proud as I in my youthful days.

That I was astonished and happy in expressing my state of mind. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the mysterious power. I sagged for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this mysterious elixir, now called Kotoke, and later the recipe put into practical form by a chemist.

That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved. Many men and women, also, have reported satisfactory results from Kotoke.

How YOU May Grow YOUR Hair

My honest belief is that hair roots rarely die even when the hair falls out through dandruff, fever, excessive dryness or other disorders. I have been told by experts that often the roots become imbedded within the scalp, covered by hard skin, so that they remain in a bottle which will grow when fertilized. Shampoo (which contains alkali) and hair lotions which contain alcohol are enemies to the hair, as they dry it, making it brittle. Kotoke contains the elements of nature which give new vitality to the scalp and hair.

"NIGHT RIDING" STIRS ALABAMA

Three Negroes Killed and Many Arrested, Following Burning of Several Homes and Barns.

Montgomery, Ala., November 1.—Three negroes known to be dead, thirteen in the Montgomery county jail and property loss through incendiary fires of Saturday and Sunday night, amounting to $100,000, recapitulates the night riding outbreak in the southern part of this county early tonight. Over one hundred heavily armed county and city officials and civilian volunteers are on duty at strategic points in the affected area tonight, although it was generally believed the threatened uprising had been nipped.

The killing of Warren Taylor, negro, the third to die in connection with the events of the past forty-two hours, occurred early this afternoon and after he had emptied a .45 caliber pistol at Chief of Police Taylor, Sheriff John L. Scoggin and other officials who had placed him under arrest at his home eighteen miles south of this city. Taylor had reported earlier in the day an attempt to burn his property by night riders, the robbery of his store and an attempt upon his own life, and while he was being treated for a gunshot wound in his shoulder in the city, officers went to his home and questioned his mother and found the statements of the two at variance, and also found the safe Taylor had reported as having been stolen, under his bed.

Negro Started Shooting. The discrepancy in the accounts as given caused the officers to decide on Taylor's arrest and when he came to the officers waiting for him. When he was bundled into Chief of Police Taylor's automobile he seized a gun lying in the car and started shooting, the activity of the negro's arms probably causing the officers to fire. Before the negro had emptied the pistol, however, he was fired on from the side and eight bullets pierced his head and body, causing instant death.

Conflicting reports were received at Montgomery throughout the day from the southern part of the county, coupling alleged threats to destroy one or two rural towns during the night, and this caused the swearing in of one hundred civilians who, with county and city officials, are on guard in those localities tonight. A prevailing report here tonight, which was without confirmation due to inability to secure wire connections with the community, was to the effect that four negroes had been shot to death near Highland Home, Ala., early in the day.

At the county jail this afternoon, J. F. Amerson, who apprehended and arrested Leflore Gibson, a negro, stated that Gibson had told him another negro, Roosevelt Johnson, also under arrest, had shown him balls of cotton which had been saturated with kerosene oil. Saturday afternoon, and said they were to be used in destroying the buildings on the Davis and Houston plantations, where the first incendiary fires were discovered late Saturday night.

Every male white resident in the southern part of the county was reported heavily armed this afternoon, and at Snowdon and Ramer, Ala., were keeping an all-night vigil against any attacks, threats of which had been floating about during the day.

The county grand jury was summoned today by Judge Leon M. Cord, who states that nothing will be left undone nor expense spared to investigate the uprising and prosecute the guilty persons involved.

MUCH BRITISH BLOOD SPILLED BY IRISHMEN

Invaded the town, following the wounding of a constable from ambush, and wrecked many Sinn Fein houses.

The raid was carried out after warnings delivered recently by unionists who told Sinn Fein that the first act of violence would be followed by deliberate retribution. When the news of the wounding of the constable became known about, factory whistles were blown, calling together groups of Ulstermen. As soon as these forces were organized they rushed to Ballybunna Fein headquarters, riddling the premises with bullets, methodically smashing doors and windows, and burning down the buildings with bombs and gasoline. Many inhabitants fled the town before the reprisals began.

To Avenge MacSwiney. Government officials declare that the general offensive, which seems to have begun through the south-west of Ireland, is deliberately ordered by Sinn Fein as an answer to MacSwiney's death.

Atties are heavy, and every hour brings further reports of terrorism. Spirited encounters between Sinn Feiners and troops are reported from Killorglin, Ballyduff, Abbey Dorney, Granard and Tullamore. Police have attacked Tralee, Ballybunna, Lifford and Ballyshannon, burning several villages and looting houses throughout the territory.

Replying to questions in the house of commons, Lloyd-George Monday night emphasized his "determination" of the use of expanding bullets by the Irish republican army. "The possession of these bullets," he declared, "can be punished only by the death penalty."

BRITISH EXECUTE MEDICAL STUDENT.

Dublin, November 1.—Kevan Barry, a medical student, was executed at Mount Joy prison this morning for taking part in an attack on a military escort here during the past summer. Barry was charged with murder, as two British soldiers were killed during the fight.

When the hour of execution approached, nearly 1,000 persons prayed outside the prison, continuing until after the young man had been pronounced dead. Armored cars guarded the street before the prison. Barry's mother declared last week she was proud her son was "dying for Ireland."

DUBLIN REPORTS. MANY ATTACKS.

Dublin, November 1.—There were at least fourteen separate attacks on the police and military in the west and south of Ireland Sunday evening. In these attacks six of the police were killed and eight others wounded. One member of the military and one naval man were wounded. One civilian was killed.

Director Inspector of Police Killalea was shot and killed last night at Granard. At Tullamore a police sergeant was wounded by an unknown man, and died. Two constables were shot dead at Killorglin last night. A police patrol was attacked in Abbey Dorney, a constable being killed and two others wounded. A constable was wounded at Causeway.

Armed civilians captured and destroyed the Lifford police barracks yesterday, taking all arms and ammunition.

In Tralee, a naval driver was wounded, and reprisals followed, the city hall and a shop being burned.

BRITISH REPRISALS.

Dungannon, Ireland, November 1. This town, located in central Ulster, spent a terrifying night as a result of reprisals following the wounding of a constable during an attack on a police patrol by civilians yesterday.

Armed and disguised men visited the town and discharged bombs and firearms in many business houses owned by members of the Sinn Fein. A number of places were wrecked and many families fled to the country for safety.

Luthersville Man Dies.

R. S. Tullen, aged 65, of Luthersville, Ga., died Sunday morning. The funeral will be held at 11 o'clock this morning with interment in Hill cemetery. He is survived by wife and eight children.

WILSON CONFIDENT LEAGUE WILL WIN

Special Wire Will Carry Returns Direct to Executive Offices—What Harding's Victory Means.

BY JOHN GLEISSNER,
United News Staff Correspondent.

Washington, November 1.—President Wilson, chief author of the league of nations, on which the country will return a "solemn referendum" Tuesday, professes to be confident of the election of Governor Cox.

He believes, according to those close to him, that the voters want the league of nations, and will therefore cast their ballots for the man who sponsors it. The president has seen the numerous predictions that the country will show itself republican by a large majority, but he remains unconvinced, and believes surprises are in store for those who have calculated the probable outcome of the election.

To the president, the election means vindication or repudiation for him and his works. There was little at the white house on the eve of election day, and J. E. Tumulty, the president's secretary, and other officials, will be there to receive the president's verdict. The president will retire at the customary hour, waiting until later for so much to him.

Much interest has been evidenced as to the probable effect of a vote on the president. It was said Monday by his friends that his condition is not such as to warrant fears of dangerous consequences, should Harding be elected. He is expected to be a blow to him. But it was pointed out he has been subjected to many other bitter disappointments during the thirteen months of his illness.

Deprived of Leadership. Whoever is elected it will mark the end of the period during which the president has been the central figure in national and perhaps international politics. A victory for Harding will deprive him of influence in world affairs, according to his own interpretation, and will leave to republicans the task of determining the work of putting into effect the Wilson ideas.

Many believe the president has held himself up during recent months, to a considerable extent, by the strength of his will and the determination of his administration to have America enter the league. Since he has staked everything in the "referendum" which he is chiefly responsible, they look to him to take a decreasingly active part in affairs henceforth. Whether the president would resign in event of Cox's defeat can not be ascertained. No one at the white house will even discuss it.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC AND OIL PROPERTIES

New York, November 1.—Directors of the Southern Pacific company, at meeting here today, adopted resolutions approving the general principle of the separation of the California oil properties and its stock holdings in the Associated Companies from the railroad property.

The matter of separation was referred to the company's executive committee, which will outline an appropriate plan. According to the formal statement issued after the meeting, the board intends that the benefits from this arrangement shall be shared by the stockholders and this advance notice is given for his benefit.

The Southern Pacific company owns more than one-half of the 32,756,000 of Associated Oil stock valued at $2,000,000. The stock is held in trust for refunding $500,000 of bonds.

Both Southern Pacific and Associated Oil have been active on the stock exchange recently. According to reports current in the market, the board of Associated Oil holdings probably will be made to Standard Oil interests in California.

RECRUITS FLOCKING TO REGULAR ARMY

Washington, November 1.—Recruits for the regular army continue to flock in at record-breaking rates, Adjutant General Harris' office announced tonight, and 17,225 enlistments accepted during October broke all peace-time records for the month. A notable matter in connection with the record, it was stated, was the fact that 66 per cent of the month's enlistments were for the full three-year period, while in previous months about half of the men have sought only one year of service.

The educational advantages offered by the army on its new basis, General Harris said, is given by nearly all the recruits as reason for enlisting.

The total strength of the army is now 208,781 officers and men, of whom 158,466 are in the United States.

PACKERS PROTEST HIGH RAILWAY RATES

Washington, November 1.—The Institute of American Meat Packers announced here today that it had issued orders for its members to refuse to ship meat to the railroads that attempt to increase charges and rates to an unreasonable and unjustified extent. With a score of other shippers, the announcement said, the packers today protested to the interstate commerce commission against new demurrage rates filed by the carriers effective December 1, and asked a hearing.

HARDING IS CALM, WAITING VERDICT

Senator Says That He Has Done His Best and Puts Worries of Campaign Behind Him.

Marion, Ohio, November 1.—Putting the stress and worries of his campaign behind him, Senator Harding awaited calmly tonight the decision of his fellow countrymen on his candidacy for the nation's highest office.

He made no prediction of the outcome, but his demeanor carried every sign of satisfaction and confidence.

Throughout the day he let down from the strain of the campaign, declined to concern himself with the routine of his headquarters, and spent most of his time chatting with friends and neighbors who came in to see him.

In the afternoon he talked for a hour with the newspaper correspondents.

Tomorrow he expects to vote early in the forenoon and then motor to a golf course 40 miles away to tramp over the links while the story of the election is telling itself throughout the nation.

He will be back home in time to hear the earliest returns.

Telephone Talk With Hays.

Virtually the only attention given to politics by the nominees during today was in telephone conferences with Will H. Hays, republican national chairman, and Harry M. Daugherty, his pre-convention manager.

Mr. Hays, New York, and Mr. Daugherty, in Columbus, gave him detailed reports of the outlook, which he described as decidedly encouraging.

From Indiana, New Jersey, Illinois, New York, and other states, he also had received some heartening reports.

Mr. Harding's nomination in June, the senator has made 181 speeches, long and short. By far the greatest number of them were delivered from the rear platform of his train during his travels over sixteen states.

Thirty-three were delivered from the front porch and 38 at other places in Ohio.

After election day there will be a vacation for the senator and his wife, but details of plans for it have not yet been announced.

Many inquiries have come to them from points outside continental United States, and it is taken for granted they will make a trip that will take them away from Marion and give them at least two weeks of seclusion and recreation.

Where Harding Will Vote.

The voting booth where the senator and Mrs. Harding will cast their ballots tomorrow is in a small garage about a block from their home. The precinct has been nominally democratic.

This year the political signs in that particular section are not conspicuous. However, for the precinct's registration showed a greater number of women first voters than there are men.

At his home in the evening the nominee will receive the returns by the Associated Press, who have been established during the campaign at press headquarters a few steps away from the Harding front porch.

In the circle gathered with the senator during the evening will be his father and sisters, Mrs. Harding and Mr. Daugherty.

Local committees have made elaborate preparations to serenade him as the returns come in and to celebrate the event with a red fire parade.

DEMOCRATS HOPE TO CAPTURE HOUSE

Chairman Flood Predicts G. O. P. Majority Will Be Upset—Ridicules Republican Claims.

Washington, November 1.—Chairman Flood, of the democratic national congressional committee, issued a statement tonight reasserting his claim that the democrats would overturn the republican majority in the house, and adding the prediction that democratic members would be elected in Idaho and Washington, as well as in the states previously mentioned in claims of gains.

"We will hold the two democrats from Utah," he added.

Referring to the election prediction of last Sunday by Chairman Fess, of the republican congressional committee, Mr. Flood said this was "the most glaring" of many "striking examples of republican misrepresentation and misstatement."

"He says the republican gain in twenty members in certain states will result from gains of 'one member each in Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Michigan and Nebraska,'" Mr. Flood said. "Mr. Fess apparently does not know there are now four republican members of the house from Maine. Where he got the idea of a gain of one member from that state, as he predicted, is a mystery."

Evidently he is ignorant of the fact that there are now six republican members of the house from Nebraska. How could he gain one there, as he asserts?

"Continuing his wild claim, Mr. Fess says the republicans will gain two members each from California, Kansas and Ohio and three members each from Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York."

Mr. Flood said that the republican chairman had dared to inform himself before he made this ridiculous statement. He would have discovered that the Kansas delegation now consists of seven republicans and but one democrat. Where does the eminent doctor figure he gains two members of the house in this delegation?

BRITAIN AND MEXICO
SETTLE BENTON CASE

Washington, November 1.—Great Britain has agreed to a settlement of the claim against Mexico growing out of the killing of William Benton, a British subject, near Juarez on February 17, 1914. Mexico is to pay $10,000 cash to Mrs. Benton and a pension of $250 a day as long as Mrs. Benton remains unmarried.

PLANNING TO SHIP CENTRAL EUROPE LOW GRADE COTTON

Memphis, Tenn., November 1.—Following an organization meeting here today of the Mississippi Delta Cotton Export and Trading company, a committee of bankers and planters left tonight for New York to make arrangements for eastern shipments of low grade cotton to Poland, Bohemia, Germany and other European markets.

Gerald Fitzgerald, of Clarksville, Miss., today elected president of the new organization, heads the delegation.

In New York they will meet representatives of large cotton interests in central Europe.

The plan includes the assembling and grading of low grade cotton in the delta section at Clarksville, Miss., the headquarters, and shipping in uniform lots to mills abroad, where it will be manufactured and turned over to foreign selling agents for disposal.

It is believed that most of the product can be sold abroad. The plan has been formulated to aid in the sale of low grade cotton at satisfactory prices.

DODGER BERGDOLL
CAUGHT AT COBLENZ?

New York, November 1.—The statement that he had caused the arrest near Coblenz, Germany, of Grover C. Bergdoll, wealthy Philadelphia escaped draft evader, was made here today by a passenger on the steamer Rotterdam, who gave his name as J. W. Hartman, and whose address was 1252 Dover street, Philadelphia.

Hartman told customs officers that he had been employed near the Bergdoll home, and when, several weeks ago, while he was in the Coblenz area, his attention was called to a young man who had just bought a motor car, he recognized him as Bergdoll.

Declaring that the American army authorities at Coblenz could confirm his statement, Hartman added: "Of course, they wouldn't tell you anything about it yet."

Washington, November 1.—The war department tonight received no word from the military authorities at Coblenz, indicating that any trace of Grover C. Bergdoll had been found there, according to Major General Harris, adjutant general.

Reports passed through his hands, General Harris said, adding a comment on the many rumors that reached his office that Bergdoll had been located. Coblenz, he said, was one of the few places not previously mentioned in these reports.

FRANK M. SCARLETT
DIES AT BRUNSWICK

Brunswick, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—Frank M. Scarlett, one of Brunswick's best known and most popular citizens, passed away at the city hospital tonight following an illness of only several days.

Mr. Scarlett underwent an operation on Friday and attending physicians announced at the time that his condition was serious, but held out slight hopes for his recovery.

The deceased, who is prominently connected in many Georgia cities, has resided in Brunswick practically all of his life, and was active in business circles up to the time he was stricken.

He was married by his widow and one son, Frank M. Scarlett, Jr. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon.

FARMERS HOLD COTTON
IN SOUTH CAROLINA

Greenville, S. C., November 1.—Farm Demonstration Agent A. H. Chapman, Greenville county, today issued a statement based on reports he had obtained from various sections of the state, that the farmers of this state are holding their cotton and very little is being offered for sale even in cases of distress.

That the farmers in this state are holding their cotton also was reported in an official statement from Clemson Agricultural college.

RAILROADS ORDERED TO CORRECT SCHEDULES

Washington, November 1.—Railroads of the country were ordered today by the interstate commerce commission to correct by March 1, 1921, such freight schedules as depart from the long-and-short haul provisions of the commerce act, and by October 1, 1921, departures as to passenger fares and charges.

The commission declared that it considered the correction of the "fourth section departures" as a matter of the "utmost importance, to which it expected primary consideration will be given."

BOLSHEVIKI BEAT WRANGEL FORCES

Center and Wings of the Anti-Bolshevik Army Crushed—Reds Take Important Towns.

Sebastopol, November 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The bolsheviks have broken General Wrangel's center and the wings of his army apparently have been crushed. The town of Melitopol and other points have been abandoned and the reds are nearing Perekop.

The Red wave is flooding the Taurida region. Wrangel is making a gallant defense. He is prepared to withdraw from the Crimea. The Red army claims the capture of Perekop.

BOLSHEVIKI TAKE IMPORTANT TOWNS.

London, November 1.—Several important towns northeast and north west of the Crimean peninsula have been occupied by the soviet Russian forces as a result of hard fighting along the Black sea front. It is announced in an official statement from Moscow today that the places occupied are Perekop, Melitopol and Skadovsk.

The capture of Melitopol by the bolsheviks represents an advance of about 75 miles south from Alexanderopol on the Dnieper, which Sebastopol is only 100 miles from. General Wrangel, in making this announcement today, state department officials would not say what government had made the inquiry.

The state department has asked for more information on the proposed blockade and meantime is withholding its answer. Which of the European countries have agreed to the blockade has not been revealed, but the understanding at the state department is that Italy is opposed to it.

Keen judgment and a marvelous sailing ability of Captain Marmy were the factors that made him responsible for winning today's victory. On the right side of the field, Beasley went around right and for 3 yards. On the left side, Beasley ran for 4 yards to Heeson, who returned five. In three successive runs, Turner, Partin and Pierce gained some ground for the seniors, when the end of the first quarter, Oregon was in the weakest spot. Yet the last two games have revealed a lessened driving power to their line and here Harvard will have a tactical advantage.

At the start of the latest development of importance has been the playing of Kelley, the old Rutgers star. Kelley, a hard-hitting player who can go through an entire game without losing his punch and in him Yale has a great asset. His line is heavy and powerful, but somewhat unbalanced.

At the start of the Oregon-California game, Stanford, California still leads her old rival, Stanford, and the Berkeley institution is in a position to win the game. Her own in the American game. This was demonstrated by her defeat of Oregon 28-15 by 7-0.

In U. S. Penitentiary

Chicago, November 1.—“This man apparently is determined not to go down,” commented Federal Judge Landis today, as he imposed a sentence of thirty months in the United States penitentiary at Joliet upon Charles M. Sommers, owner of the St. James grill.

Sommers and his cousin, William Sommers, who was sentenced to ninety days in the county jail and fined $10,000, were charged with conspiring to violate prohibition laws and for selling liquor.

The evidence against them consisted of fifteen barrels of whiskey from Louisville, Ky., which, it was claimed, had been sold at the hotel and grill.

SECOND GAME.

Starting the second game of the afternoon between the juniors and the sophomores, Lester kicked to the juniors the ball, which was caught by Rochelle went around right end and for a substantial gain. Sherman, Pittman and Desler in descending order, came in and inner up in each flight with a special prize for the low medalist. The juniors won the game by an entry list of upwards of a hundred points expected for the club championship. It will be an annual affair hereafter.

The course is in excellent shape, w-h the fairways well trimmed and the turf firm and fast, and an interesting tournament is looked for.

COLONEL WOODS NAMED POSSIBLE CHAMPIONSHIP HEAD

New York, November 1.—Colonel Arthur Woods, former police commissioner of New York, may be the best person for the commission which will rule organized baseball next year, according to a rumor that reached here.

Crossed Away by Woman

ATLANTA, N. Y., November 1.—In an effort to locate a milligram of radium valued at $13,000, carelessly left by a woman, a search party from Paxton hospital here today, workmen began to dig up the sewers in the vicinity. Line and Lester kicked, making the score, juniors, 0; sophomores, 1.

Lester kicked off to Oesler, who returned five yards. Again the sophomores scored. Lester kicked off-side. Johnson replaced Pittman, right half, and ran through center yard line. Lester kicked off-side to go. Johnson was thrown back for a loss and also knocked out of the belt by the Paxton half back. In the second half Oesler ran around left end for eight yards. Lester kicked off-side. Johnson replaced Pittman in a forward pass. Lester kicked off-side. Johnson ran for the fourth down, and was forced to kick to the juniors. Van Buren, of the line and downed Oesler in his tracks. On account of the gathering darkness, the game was called off.

"The Man Who Came Back"

Gripping, Enthralling Play

"The Man Who Came Back," the most completely gripping play of the season thus far, played at the Atlanta theater Monday night, and will remain as a dash of excitement at the Atlanta theater for some time. The play, which is a masterpiece of melodrama, at times almost to the breaking point, but never quite oversteering the bounds of possibility. The play is a masterpiece of the quality of the audience—not so much in the sense of the play, but in the sense of the audience's reaction to the play. The play is a masterpiece of the quality of the audience—not so much in the sense of the play, but in the sense of the audience's reaction to the play.

The story of a man who is found dead in a ditch, and who is brought back to life, and who is found to be a man who has been dead for a long time. The play is a masterpiece of the quality of the audience—not so much in the sense of the play, but in the sense of the audience's reaction to the play. SUPPORT PLEDGED TO AD MOVEMENT

Prominent Atlantans Tell Why Citizens Should Contribute to $40,000 Fund to Advertise Georgia.

Promises of unstinted support to the Advertiser Georgia campaign in Fulton county were given Monday at the luncheon of civic and business heads held at the Piedmont hotel, when Harry Goodhart, Fulton county's "man in the movement" for the $40,000 quota introduced several Atlantans who addressed the gathering.

Fred Hamlin, executive secretary of the enterprise which will raise $300,000 to "tell the world" about Georgia, outlined the system under which the advertising and subsequent "follow-up" campaign will function and reported that the leadership of every civic organization in the city had offered their aid to the campaign.

Mr. Hamlin presented the details of the project to the city council at its regular meeting Monday afternoon and a resolution, introduced by Councilman C. H. Baggs, recommending the appropriation of a fund of $5,000 to the movement, was referred to the finance committee for action at its next session. The enterprise will be explained to the county commissioners at their Wednesday afternoon meeting, with the request that they give it their official aid.

Mayor Key, who has enthusiastically endorsed the project as an excellent means of aiding Georgia and thereby Atlanta, spoke for a few minutes at the Piedmont saying:

"The Key Institute Greensboro, N.C. for the treatment of whiskey and drug addiction, the tobacco habit and nerve exhaustion. Thirty years successful operation. Correspondence confidential."

that there were many erroneous impressions regarding Georgia prevalent throughout the United States which could only be corrected through some such intensive methods. He said that, in his opinion, it was necessary to correct some erroneous impressions as to tell of the manifold opportunity which the state offers.

In discussion of the newspapers throughout the country which will be utilized as advertising mediums in the campaign, Charles D. Atkinson, business manager of the Atlanta Journal, asked that The Chicago Tribune be stricken from any list of proposed medium on account of that publication's manifest attitude of enmity toward the south.

The suggestion of Mr. Atkinson's met with instant approval from the men gathered at the luncheon.

J. W. Rawlings, manager of the local branch of R. P. Avery & Sons, national-wide dealers in farming implements, promised the support of that branch of Atlanta industry in attaining the objects of the campaign, saying that he believed the co-operation of all men in that business could be counted upon.

Advertising Value.

St. Elmo Massengale, one of the country's best known advertising men, told the meeting of the excellence he believed the project to possess from the advertising standpoint, and declared that there was a distinct value which would accrue to the state in being the first to undertake an international advertising campaign.

The local campaign will be intensively carried on through the week, according to Mr. Goodhart's announcement, and the climax of the week's work will be reached Thursday when the Atlanta Advertising club meets in special session to confer on the most efficient means for securing the completed means for the campaign will be presented to the committee. The objects of the campaign will be presented to the committee. The objects of the campaign will be presented to the committee.

MACON PACKING PLANT CLOSES TEMPORARILY

300 Employees Thrown Out of Work When Plant Is Closed.

Macon, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—Three hundred employees have been thrown out of work temporarily, at least, and possibly permanently, by the closing of the plant of the Macon Packing company, which is owned by the Allied Packers, Inc.

Officials of the company say the closing is necessary in order to make repairs to machinery. There have been reports in circulation for some time, however, that it was the intention of the Allied Packers to close the Macon plant permanently, but there has been no verification of this. For several months the plant has been out of the market for cattle and hogs, no quotations whatever being given.

The plant of the Macon Packing company represents an investment of a million dollars. The company was operated for a considerable length of time by local interests, but about two years ago it was sold to the Allied Packers, Inc. Until the middle of last summer the plant was operated regularly, but since that time it had been run with reduced capacity. The daily capacity of the plant at the time it was taken over by the Allied Packers was 100 head of cattle and 1,000 head of swine.

This is the second large Macon plant to be closed recently. The R. F. Williamson Corporation's big carrying plant, employing 600 people, having shut down several weeks ago when R. F. Williamson got into financial difficulties.

The Flour American-Plywood company's plant was placed in the hands of a receiver a few days ago, and while it will be operated for a few weeks longer under the receiver it is generally understood it will also be closed eventually. That plant employs between two and three hundred people.

Local cotton mills are running on curtailed schedules and a number of other large manufacturing plants are understood to be doing likewise.

Cremated in Hotel Fire.
Fort Worth, Texas, November 1.—H. G. Whiteside, of Seymour, Texas, was burned to death in a fire which destroyed the McLean hotel at Seymour early today. Two other persons have not been accounted for.

MACON SECURED NATIONAL GUARD HEADQUARTERS

Macon, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—Following the application of the Macon Volunteers for a mustering officer to be sent to Macon to formally induct that company into the national guard service, announcement has been made that Macon has been awarded the regimental headquarters of the national guard of Georgia. The announcement was made by Adjutant General Van Holt Nash. It means that the regimental headquarters, the office of the colonel of the state guard who is yet to be elected, the regimental supply company, a regimental band and the headquarters company will be located here.

The mustering in of the Macon Volunteers will complete Macon's quota of three infantry companies and a machine gun company, the Macon Hussars, Floyd Rifles and the Macon Machine Gun company, having already been mustered into service.

PRESENT PETITION SEEKING PARDON OF DR. C. K. CHAPMAN

Americus, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—Following circulation of a petition, which received numerous signatures, formal petition asking the pardon of Dr. Charles K. Chapman has just been filed with the clerk of the Georgia state court. The petition works another chapter in the famous Walter Wade murder case, which occupied the wide attention in 1917, when the crime was committed.

At that time sentiment here was very antagonistic to the six defendants, only two of whom, Dr. Chapman and John Johnson, were ever tried, though all of them were taken in custody shortly after Wade's death. Since that time a decided change in public sentiment has come about here and few of the citizens would now entertain asking Dr. Chapman's release declined to do so.

EMBEZZLER GIVEN PRISON SENTENCE BY AUGUSTA JUDGE

Augusta, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—James M. Hill, confessed embezzler of over $35,000 from the Merchants' National bank, was sentenced Monday morning by Judge Hammond in superior court to serve from three to five years in the state penitentiary at Milledgeville, contingent upon good behavior. Following his sentencing, Hill was taken to the county jail to await his incarceration in the state prison. He pleaded guilty and waived trial.

Israel Jones, murderer of Owen Conlin, an aged white man, was sentenced to the Atlanta State warehouse, to be hanged on November 25, the day following his sentencing, giving Judge Hammond fixed the date Monday.

NEGRO KINDERGARTEN NURSERY IS OPENED

Fifteen years ago A. F. Herndon, a negro citizen of Atlanta, hoped to organize what is now known as the Gate City Free Kindergarten association, consisting of five kindergartens, scattered over the city for negro children.

Monday afternoon the Herndon Community center of this association had its formal opening to hundreds of negroes who passed in and out of the center during the evening and contributed useful equipment for the operation of the institution. These kindergartens serve more than 2,000 children annually from back streets and out-of-the-way places, where the churches of the race do not reach.

Herndon was born in Walton county, Georgia, a slave. He has been in Atlanta from childhood, and by thrift, economy and knowledge how to treat the particular public, he has won his way steadily upward until today he is regarded as one of the most outstanding negroes in the country.

He said that this social work is his idea of religion and the way to carry it to the hearts of the members of his race. Several years ago he showed how hundreds of children of negro women had to be left while their parents went to the kitchens and washrooms and that these little fellows did not have the proper environment and he tried to do something to give them an opportunity as citizens of the state.

D. R. Anderson, supervisor, with Mattie Clyde Robinson her assistant, are in charge of the nursery every day.

NEW YORK MAN ROBBED ON NATIONAL HIGHWAY

Perry, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—John F. Roe, of St. Klisco, N. Y., was robbed in Gun's bottom, this morning, about 10 o'clock this morning.

The party robbing him stepped out of the woods by the road and, mounting the running board of his car, threw a pistol in his face and demanded his money. He got a $100 Liberty bond and $10 in cash. He was white, about 30 years of age, and well dressed.

He escaped into the woods. Mr. Roe was by himself on his way to Florida.

Chronic Moonshiner, "Wild Bill" Williams, Arrested Once More

Macon, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—Charles Williams, better known as "Wild Bill," who has served practically fifteen years of his life in the penitentiary for making moonshine whiskey, and who only finished his last sentence two months ago, has again been arrested for playing his old trade. He was caught with a 1,100-gallon still in full operation in a thickly wooded swamp in Jasper county, according to federal prohibition agents.

"Wild Bill" Williams is a white man, 50 years of age, and officials of the United States court say, as far back as they can remember, he has been arraigned regularly every year or two. He is the head of a large family.

Lively Fight Ensues Over the Appointment Of New Circuit Judge

Macon, Ga., November 1.—(Special.)—Judge John F. Ross, former judge of the city court of Macon and former solicitor of the Macon circuit, today announced he is a candidate for the judgeship of the Macon circuit, which was recently created by the legislature and to which Malcolm D. Jones was appointed by Governor Dorsey.

This means there will be a court fight over the right of Judge Jones to hold the office for a longer period than January 1, 1921. Judge Ross claiming that the legislature had no right to create the judgeship and at the same time to provide for the appointment of a judge for a longer period than January 1 following the next general election occurring more than thirty days from the time the vacancy exists when the constitution of the state provides that all judges of the supreme court, the court of appeals and superior courts shall be elected by the people.

Should Judge Ross receive as many as two votes tomorrow and no one else receive any he will contend that he has been elected. For him to receive votes they will have to be written on the ballot. Should the governor and secretary of state fail to declare him judge if he gets a majority of the votes cast for that office, Judge Ross announced he will bring mandamus proceedings, since Judge Malcolm Jones was appointed for a four-year term by Governor Dorsey. His name does not appear on the ballot as a candidate.

Judge Jones was in Atlanta today to be sworn into office. Judge Ross was an applicant for the judgeship at the time Judge Jones was appointed. He fought the passage of the bill creating the judgeship on the ground that it took away from the people the right to elect the judge for his first term.
